

Steps of research progression at Edinburgh Fertility Preservation:

1. Determining the molecular and cellular basis of different aspects of germ cell (sperm and egg) development
2. Understanding how germ cell development is affected by cancer treatment
3. Using this knowledge to develop strategies to adequately protect or restore fertilities
4. Assessing procedures with preclinical trials
5. Clinical trials
6. Procedure becomes established for clinical use